GOVERNOR PEABODY'S ORDER TO ARMS APPLAUDED BY THE ENTIRE COUNTRY

SENTIMENT OF PEOPLE INDORSES THE PROMPT ACTION OF STATE EXECUTIVE

Colonel James H. Brown, while talking with Governor Peabody over the telephone yesterday, was told by the chief executive that he had received hundreds of telegrams, not only from this state, but from all over the country, commending him.

DEVELOPMENTS OF YESTERDAY PROVE THE NECESSITY FOR THE TROOPS' PRESENCE

There were sensational features in the strike situation yesterday. Well-authenticated reports of such nature reached the ears of the military and civil authorities that Brigadier-General Chase and Sheriff Gilbert took extra precautions.

Plans to secure possession of the Telluride mill were foiled by dispatching a Gatling gun section and infantrymen to the plant. Information of this contemplated move on the part of the strikers was given in an affidavit reciting as desperate an act in the intimidation of employes as has ever come to the knowledge of the civil authorities.

The mills are surrounded by troops. The quiet of the strikers was broken last night by a test on their part to see how far the military would go. Three men disregarded the challenge of sentries, and had to be driven off by a rifle volley.

The need of troops at Colorado City has become apparent to all. Business men, all who have the welfare of the city at heart, are unanimous in praising the governor for the quick sending of the militia. The Mining Exchange brokers are unanimous in indorsing the action of the chief executive of the state. A telegram of thanks sent to the governor sets forth the feeling of the community in this particular.

But praise for the rapid handling of a lawless element is not restricted to Colorado Springs. Telegrams and messages from all sections of the state and country have been laid on Governor Peabody's desk, each commending the stand he has taken.

The situation has not lost any of its seriousness; intimidation is being practiced on the families of the men now working at the mills. The members of the Mill and Smeltermen's union declare they have no intention of giving up.

A joint committee representing the city council and the chamber of commerce of Colorado City met General Manager MacNeill of the United States Reduction Company, but nothing was accomplished toward ending the strike.

AFFIDAVIT FILED BY STRIKERS TELLS OF DESPERATE PLOT TO SEIZE MILL PROPERTY

THE MILITARY AND CIVIL AUTHORITIES WERE HANDED AN AFFIDAVIT YESTERDAY MORNING WHICH CALLED FORTH IMMEDIATE ACTION ON THE PART OF BRIGADIER GENERAL CHASE, AND A GATLING GUN SECTION AND INFANTRYMEN WERE PLACED ON GUARD AT THE TELLURIDE MILL TO FORESTALL A REPORTED ATTACK OF STRIKERS TO GAIN POSSESSION OF THE PROPERTY AND FORCE THE CARPENTERS, WHO ARE STILL WORKING, TO JOIN THEM.

THE AFFIDAVIT IS SWORN TO BY ONE OF THE MEN EMPLOYED AT THE TELLURIDE MILL, OSTENSIBLY ONE OF THE PUMPMEN, ALTHOUGH, IN VIEW OF ITS SENSATIONAL NATURE AND VALUE, THE AFFIANT'S NAME WAS WITHHELD YESTERDAY BY THE AUTHORITIES, OVER HIS SIGNATURE, AND OUT OF OATH. THIS EMPLOYE STATES THAT LAST SATURDAY NIGHT, FEBRUARY 23, ABOUT 11 O'CLOCK, A BODY OF 75 OR 80 MEN CAME TO THE TELLURIDE MILL, DECLARING THEY WERE MEMBERS OF THE MILL AND SMELTERMEN'S UNION NO. 125 OF COLORADO CITY, AND, AS A STRIKE HAD BEEN DECLARED, AND MEMBERS WERE WORKING AT THE PLANT, THEY HAD THE AUTHORITY TO ORDER ALL WHO WERE WORKING TO CEASE. THEY INSISTED THAT EVERYONE SHOULD LEAVE THE PREMISES, AND SEVERAL DID. THE SPOKESMAN, AND, APPARENTLY, THE LEADER OF THE DELEGATION, WAS A MAN NAMED BURR, ACCORDING TO THE AFFIDAVIT.

THESE PARTIES HAD NO GRIEVANCE AGAINST THE TELLURIDE REDUCTION COMPANY, AND PROTESTS WERE MADE, IT BEING REPRESENTED BY SEVERAL THAT THEY HAD NEVER EVEN ATTENDED A MEETING OF THE MILL AND SMELTERMEN'S UNION. THE AFFIANT, WHO DEMURRED TO LEAVING, WAS SURROUNDED AND, BY FORCE AND THREATS, COMPELLED TO LEAVE. HE STATES HE WAS TOLD THAT THE STRIKERS WOULD BLOW UP HIS HOUSE, AND HE WOULD BE VERY SORRY WHEN HE GOT HOME, TO SEE WHAT WAS LEFT OF HIS FAMILY AND HOME.

THE AFFIDAVIT CONTINUES THAT THE PLAN OF THE STRIKERS, AS KNOWN TO THE AFFIANT, IS TO PUT OUT THE CARPENTERS UNION. THIS WAS TO HAVE BEEN DONE, ACCORDING TO PLANS, LAST NIGHT. THE CARPENTERS HAVE BEEN DOING REPAIR WORK, AND SHOULD THREATS AND INTIMIDATION PROVE OF NO AVAIL, THE STRIKERS WOULD PROCEED AGAINST THE PROPERTY, AND IN ORDER TO KEEP IT IN LINE, RUN ALL THE MEN EMPLOYED BY THE TELLURIDE REDUCTION COMPANY OFF THE PREMISES.

THE MEN WILL REMAIN ON GUARD, THE GATLING GUN COMMANDING A POSITION WHERE IT CAN SWEEP THE ONLY APPROACHES AVAILABLE FOR A CONCERTED ADVANCE.

ARRESTS OF STRIKERS FOLLOW DEMONSTRATIVE MOVE WITH ASSAULT MADE ON THEIR MESSENGERS

The first arrest made as a result of the riot Monday night was that of A. H. McCoy, charged by the office of Sheriff Gilbert as one of the leaders of the rioters, and suspected of being the man who injured so seriously Felix Rother. McCoy is one of the strikers. Deputy Sheriff Dayton made the arrest at 8:30 o'clock and brought McCoy to the county jail. He was not admitted to bail last night.

Five shots rang out sharply in the quiet around the Standard mill last evening about 8 o'clock. A sentry saw three men approaching along the railroad track, crossing the main entrance to the mill. He challenged them, twice and when they still continued, paying no attention to the commands to halt, he fired at them. The men threw themselves down the railroad embankment and disappeared. A detachment from Troop C, cavalry, was sent out to scour the country for the men.

Sheriff Gilbert and his deputies made several rounds of the mills and Colorado City yesterday. It was reported that some of the strikers had gone to the homes of employes still working and had threatened the wives and children in order to coerce the men who were about at the mills, believing the powers of the women would win the ranks of the men now employed. Precautions were also taken to keep away agitators from Cripple Creek. Sheriff Gilbert stated last night that his office was ready for any emergency.

The officers at Camp Peabody are of the opinion that the three men who had to be driven off by a volley of shots were emissaries of the strikers who took this means to ascertain if the militia would shoot as they say they will, at any foolishness from the strikers. General Chase joined the mounted cavalry detachment, which thoroughly scattered the surrounding country to traces of the men.

Mine owners, bankers, members of the mining stock exchange and representative business men of the city, sent the following telegram to Governor Peabody yesterday:

"To his Excellency, James H. Peabody, Governor of Colorado, Denver, Colo.: The undersigned citizens of El Paso county desire to express their appreciation of your prompt action in ordering out the troops to Colorado City to protect life and property and to preserve order. We feel that your action has averted serious trouble.

Attempts to settle the strike yesterday came to naught. Here at manager C. H. MacNeill of the United States Reduction company, received a joint committee from the city council and chamber of commerce of Colorado City, consisting of C. E. Corporan and J. A. Shutter of the council and J. P. Jackson and C. D. Taylor of the chamber of commerce. The committee was appointed at a meeting of the two bodies held in the McIntosh building, Colorado City, yesterday afternoon, and at which Mayor Faulkner presided.

After the meeting with General Manager MacNeill, J. P. Jackson stated that Mr. MacNeill still declined to recognize the Mill and Smeltermen's union, and stated that the controversy had reached such a stage that it would have to work its own solution. The presence of troops furnished the protection necessary to start the works, and he, MacNeill, believed the mills would continue in operation unhampered.

Mr. MacNeill last evening declined to discuss the meeting with the joint committee, and to the authors for further negotiations looking to a settlement of the trouble, or as to the strike, itself, stating: "I have nothing to say."

Sheriff Finley and Fitzgerald of the Western Federation of Miners arrived in Colorado Springs late evening from Cripple Creek, where they are on the pay rolls of the Portland company. The men state they have the power to treat with the mill owners in behalf of the striking, looking to a settlement of the strike, if they feel that the union would be recognized, and was that the union be recognized, the other matters would be dropped out of the negotiations, as the aim is to settle the strike as quickly as possible.

"I have received no information that such a conference would be asked, and I know nothing of it," said Mr. MacNeill, when told the representatives of the Federation were in the city, "but you can say that I have nothing to discuss with the Western Federation of Miners, never mind who represents them."

The day was rife with developments, much information is being obtained by General Chase. Colonel James H. Brown of the headquarters staff and legal adviser to the National guard and other officers who are in position to ascertain hitherto unknown history of the strike. That the situation is still serious, made more so by the deadlock in peace negotiations, is evinced by the precautions taken not only by the military but by the office of Sheriff Gilbert. The sheriff, personally, made four trips of inspection yesterday and had men stationed around Colorado City at one time on a tip he had received that there would be trouble.

The disposition of the troops was as follows:

Companies A and K of the First regiment and companies D and I of the Second regiment, with troop C, cavalry, and 11 men of the signal corps at the Standard mill.

Detachments from company B were stationed at the Portland and Telluride plants. Each plant has a Gatling gun section. The sentries surrounded each mill. At the Standard camp Peabody is the name officially bestowed.

The brick building used as the office of the Standard mill has been turned over to General Chase for his headquarters. The small house known as the foreman's office some distance towards the east from the office building is occupied by Adjutant General Williams and the clerical force. The establishing of outposts was the first duty performed yesterday morning.

The day was a busy one in the camps. The men are provided with regular army tents, the tip-roof and the round kind, each sheltering comfortably 12 men. Each tent has a Sibley stove and the hauling of wood and coal and the digging of troughs around the tents in approved campaign fashion, kept the occupants of the white city in the shadow of the Peak working far into the afternoon.

It was an inspiring scene. The sunshine of the morning gave way to a misty, cold afternoon. The mist, which hung like a curtain of gauze in front of Pike's Peak and the mountains at its foot became dense and the mountains were hid. But before the grayness of the wintry covering stole towards the mills over the long stretches of reddish-brown waste, roaring fires sprang up, cutting sharply into the gloom, and blue-coated soldiers moved like shadows to and fro. The bugles occasionally pierced the air, and the silvery echoes rang from the Portland to the Telluride and back to the Standard.

The men had company messes and a general mess at noon. Major Lee, quartermaster, had everything in readiness and the scene at the temporary camp early yesterday morning was animated one. The companies from Denver bivouacked near the Denver & Rio Grande depot, and by dawn a large crowd of spectators had gathered which the sentries had difficulty in keeping back. The Colorado Springs troops long guarded the mills last night. Those at the Portland were the guests at breakfast of the Portland company. The breakfast room was in the large barn and two negro cooks were kept busy serving porterhouse steak, potatoes hot biscuit, coffee and eggs. The other troops had a menu of scrambled eggs, fried bacon, boiled potatoes, bread and coffee. At noon at the general mess the bill of fare consisted of eggs, pork chops, potatoes, bread and coffee. In the duties of quartermaster, Major Lee is assisted by Captain Rankin and Lieutenant Bloom. The Denver troops brought their stores with them.

There were no visitors at the camps yesterday for the reason that no one was permitted to pass the sentries without a pass. There was much red tape to be unwound before these little slips of signed paper could be procured.

Major Zeph T. Hill was officer of the day; officers of the guard were Lieutenant Huthwaite and Lieutenant McClelland. Three men were reported on the sick list last evening, none of the three, however, was seriously ill. Trooper Marshall of Troop C was taken to St. Francis hospital, Edward J. Chandler, Company K, and Edward Norwood of Troop C were the other patients.

Facing the Portland mill are three tents on the bluffs, one looking toward the works. These are occupied by the strikers' pickets. There was no trouble at this mill and no demonstration was made early yesterday morning when two wagonloads of nonunion men were driven up to the plant and went to work on the eight hours' [illegible]. Eight deputy sheriffs had a hard [illegible] for the mill until relieved by the soldiers.

Sheriff Gilbert proffered the Gatling gun in the city hall to General Chase, who accepted the offer, and the gun was conveyed to Camp Peabody in the afternoon. The 40 men of the militia in readiness were used to [illegible] last night.

The strikers were very [illegible] yesterday. The use of the hall on Colorado avenue, Colorado City, was secured and the committee of Mill and Smeltermen's union No. 125 was constantly [illegible] disposing of matters connected with the strike.

The petition asking Governor Peabody to recall the troops has been circulating in the postoffice. It has several signatures, but not enough to [illegible] Denver.

The schools of Colorado City will be opened today. The action was taken at a meeting yesterday afternoon between Brigadier General Chase, on his staff and business men of Colorado City. During the joint meeting of the chamber of commerce and city council of Colorado City, General Chase appeared before those bodies and congratulated them on the good work in preventing lawlessness in the city.

The general and the guard rode through the main streets of Colorado City Tuesday night upon the arrival of the troops. The officers say they witnessed half a dozen fights on the street and at the dance they observed several men who were intoxicated.

General Chase had sent word in advance of the coming of the troops, that he desired to see Mayor Faulkner and Sheriff Gilbert. The official train at Colorado Springs and Mayor Faulkner was asked if the reported conversation was correct, reiterated the statement made several days ago that he would be tempted to join the strikers if the troops were [illegible].

The petition was signed by N. B. Humes, James T. Lacey, H. Good, Mullin & Dougherty, Jacob Schmidt, J. W. Blackwood, J. R. Blunt, Hopper & Baumgartner, Seitz & Fisher, Henry Magnire, and W. C. Allen.

OF SHAMROCK III. REMARKABLE PIECE OF WORK.

Is Hollow Steel and Will Weigh 1,500 Pounds Less Than That of Shamrock II—May Not Stand Strain in High Wind.

By Associated Press

London March 4. The hollow steel mast which has been made for the Shamrock III is declared to be the most remarkable achievement in yacht construction in the United Kingdom. The workmen who built the sports for the Irish Three challengers say that the mast for the new boat is 1500 pounds lighter than that of Shamrock II while the whole spar is 1800 pounds lighter than the lower mast of Shamrock I. The workmen declare that they do not see how the steel shell is to withstand the enormous strain of a high wind but they admit that the designer is apparently satisfied with the result and there is no talk of building an extra spar for an emergency. The gaff and boom to about the same weight as previous spars.

FIFTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS EXPIRED BY LIMITATION

By Associated Press

Washington, March 4. The fifty-seventh congress expired today by limitation. There has not been in many years such a demonstration in the house as occurred today owing to the fact that Speaker Henderson was retiring not only as presiding officer but from the house as a member. The bitter partisan feeling that has sprung up in the ranks of representatives during the past week reached a pitch which prevented the speaker from receiving the unanimous approval of the house when the usual resolution of thanks and courtesy was offered. More than this, the resolution had to come from the Republican side and while this has occurred before, it is not the usual custom. The usual resolution of thanks to President Pro Tempore Frye was unanimously adopted in the senate.

Two years ago when the 58th congress expired it was remarkable not only for the second inauguration of William McKinley but also for the fact that Senator Carter of Montana, talked the river and harbor bill to death which occupied the time of the senate up to within a few minutes of the end. Today Senator Mason, whose term expires also talked an unimportant bill to death but in his valedictory he lectured the senate for its unlimited debate which allows bills to be killed in that manner and he also made a final plea for the freedom of the Philippines.

As all of the important supply bills had passed before the two houses took a recess this morning no legislation was necessary and none was attempted. The bills which had passed and reached the stage of enrollment were signed by President Roosevelt who with members of his cabinet, secured the president's room in the senate wing of the capitol. This is central visit of the president to the capitol since of the [illegible] of the [illegible] session.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

To Prove What Swamp Root, the Great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy, Will Do for You, Every Reader of the Gazette May Have a Sample Bottle Sent FREE by Mail.

Vinton, Iowa, July 4th, 1902.

Gentlemen: My trouble began with pain in my stomach and back so severe that it seemed as if knives were cutting me. I was treated by two of the best physicians in the county and consulted another. None of them suspected that the cause of my trouble was kidney disease. They all told me that I had cancer of the stomach and would die. I grew so weak that I could not walk one mile. I was a child in health and I only weighed [illegible] pounds. One day my brother saw in a paper an article about Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy. He bought me a bottle at our druggist's and I took it. My family did not see a change in me for a long time, so they obtained more and I continued the use of Swamp Root regularly. I was so weak and run down that it took considerable time to build me up again. I am now well, thanks to Swamp Root, and weigh 148 pounds and am keeping house for my husband and brother. Swamp Root saved me after the doctors had failed to do me a particle of good.

Gertrude Warner Scott (Mrs.)

Women suffer untold misery because the nature of their disease is not correctly understood. In many cases when doctoring they are led to believe that some trouble or female weakness is at the root of their illness when in fact disordered kidneys are the chief cause of their distressing troubles.

The pain and extraordinary effects of the well known kidney and bladder remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, are soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. A trial will convince anyone, and you may have a sample bottle sent free by mail.

Sample Bottle of Swamp-Root Sent Free

EDITORIAL NOTE: You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful remedy, Swamp-Root, sent absolutely free by mail, also a book telling all about Swamp-Root and containing many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from those who owe their good health, in fact their very lives, to the great curative properties of Swamp-Root. In writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say you read this generous offer in the Colorado Springs Daily Gazette.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase regular fifty cent and one dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

THE AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR WORKERS

By Associated Press

New York, March 4. The Tribune will say tomorrow:

Between 300,000 and 400,000 workmen in the building trades throughout the United States are expected to be thrown idle on May 1 on account of the forthcoming demands of the Structural Iron Workers which the manufacturers have decided to refuse. It was learned yesterday the manufacturers and contractors who have been meeting from time to time in the last fortnight effected a permanent organization on Tuesday night at a secret meeting in an uptown hotel. The organization will probably be known as the National Structural Iron Manufacturers association. It has appointed a national executive committee which will appoint local committees in cities represented by it in the next few days. The object of this association is to fight the demands which the structural iron workers throughout the country intend making on May 1. The firms in the association have a combined capital of $1,000,000,000, it is said.

THE SHEREEFIAN TROOPS SURPRISED BY REBELS

By Associated Press

London, March 5—The correspondent of the Times at Tangier telegraphs that, despite the official report of a victory by the government troops, they have probably met with a bad defeat. The division forming the vanguard of the main army commanded by El Mersichi, the Moroccan war minister, and consisting of 1400 men, was surprised on February 27 and pushed by the rebels who captured its camp. The Shereefian troops fled in disorder, abandoning everything. All available reinforcements have left Fez.

THE COMMON GROUND OF PEACE.

AN OVERWHELMING majority of the people of El Paso county are heartily in accord with the sheriff and the governor in their prompt action in meeting the trouble that unfortunately has arisen between the mills and the union.

The people of this county favor the ample protection of life and property, and when a crisis arises it is unnecessary to refine too much as to whether it should be met in one way or another. The principal thing is to meet it.

We are absolutely unable to understand why Mr. Moyer or any other union man should object to the presence of the militia at such a time. The local union favors peaceful methods. It deprecates all breaches of the peace. It has been unable to prevent them and they have been more numerous and more aggravated than the public generally understands. The militia has no other duty here than to enforce the law. Why, then, are not the union and the militia in perfect accord and why should they not meet the present situation on that common ground?

If the only object of the strikers is to employ peaceful methods, the militia will in no way interfere.

The unfortunate fact remains that proper restraint was not exercised.

The sheriff's power was inadequate and all the people rest more easily now that further trouble is averted. We are not now considering the merits of the controversy out of which the present condition developed. We are only dealing with that condition.

A REBUKE FROM A PARTISAN.

SENATOR ELKINS, a Republican, from the state of West Virginia, laid the law down to his colleagues yesterday in a thoroughly straightforward and unprejudiced manner. He declared that the party had been false to its solemn pledges in three successive platforms with respect to statehood for Arizona, Oklahoma and New Mexico. He further declared that upon the Republican majority rested the responsibility for the defeat of several important measures in the senate. For 14 weeks, he declared, a majority of the senate had been kept from voting on the statehood bill.

As a matter of fact, the country is pretty thoroughly disgusted with so-called "senatorial courtesy." That courtesy which enables a man to override the entire senate if necessary, and to defeat important legislation in the interests of the country, deserves very short shrift. At this particular session of the senate both parties have been guilty of filibustering, but upon the majority charged with transacting business rests the greater guilt. The statehood filibuster continued for weeks, and is perhaps the most flagrant in the history of that body, coupled as it is with a clear violation of party pledges. The filibuster against the Aldrich bill was mild in comparison with it, and certainly Senator Aldrich, who was one of the chief opponents of statehood, can scarcely complain if he is similarly treated with reference to his financial measure.

The whole plan of filibustering is wrong. A reasonable time should be allowed for debate on all important measures. They should by no means be rushed through with the indecent haste which characterizes the actions of the house, but there is a vast difference between a reasonable debate and an alleged courtesy which permits a senator to threaten to make a speech or to send in a book to be read for the purpose of consuming time.

It is to be hoped that the intolerable situation which has been brought home so strikingly to the United States senate at this session will not be without its effect, and that it will result in the passage of rules calculated to expedite instead of delay business hereafter.

TINKERING WITH THE CONSTITUTION.

THERE are indications that the people of Colorado are to be called on again to pass upon a flood of constitutional amendments. Nearly every one supposed that the six amendments submitted to the people at the last election would have been enough for at least a year or two, but some twenty or thirty proposed amendments to the constitution of this state are now in the hands of committees. Some of these have already been passed by one or both houses, and the impression seems to be that there will be at least eight or ten amendments submitted to the people at the next election.

This is a serious blunder. If it continues, the organic law of this state will speedily become, not a symmetrical, carefully considered document, but a thing of shreds and patches. Many of its provisions are likely to be in conflict with others. Already four amendments have been passed by the house in a very nonchalant manner, and apparently with little idea of their effect. Not a single one of them is really necessary.

One, for example, proposes to permit state institutions to hold classes in cities other than where the institution itself is located. This may be useful, but is certainly not a fit or necessary subject of constitutional amendment. Another proposes the exemption of two hundred dollars' worth of property from taxation. It was quite irregular to pass such an amendment. Another proposed to abolish the time limit on the general assembly and pay the members a stated salary instead of per diem. It is wholly inadvisable to make any change in this matter for numerous reasons which need not now be advanced.

Another amendment passed by the house is purely socialistic. It decrees that smelters and like works are public utilities, and permits the legislature to fix the treatment charges. Of all the amendments proposed, this is probably the one deserving most serious condemnation. It illustrates the tendency of the present legislature to indorse all the whims and notions of the radicals. Inasmuch as some members of the legislature are scarcely fitted to conduct a corner grocery, they would cut a sorry figure endeavoring to instruct some of the biggest institutions in this state, employing millions of capital and thousands of men, how to run their business.

These amendments have passed the house, and probably others are to follow. It is to be hoped that the good sense of the senate will see that the majority of these amendments reach the oblivion to which they are entitled, and that the Socialistic tinkerers of the constitution may not be allowed to continue their work of spoliation.

THE NEW SENATE.

THE TERMS of 30 members of the United States senate expired yesterday, and, curiously enough, though there has been a general shakeup, Democrats being succeeded by Republicans, and Republicans by Democrats, the balance of power remains precisely as it was in the old senate. Twelve Republicans and four Democrats will succeed themselves. Three Democrats are succeeded by Democrats, two Republicans by Republicans, four Republicans are succeeded by Democrats, and four Democrats are succeeded by Republicans.

Among those who leave the senate after having served in it for many years are the two Jonases and Vest. Two spectacular Republicans, Wellington of Maryland and Mason of Illinois, retire, and we vipilate no confidence in saying that they will not be missed. Among the incoming senators is Gorman of Maryland, who will probably resume at an early day the Democratic leadership which has been in uncertain and untried hands since he left. There is comparatively little political independence among those who enter the body for the first time, and we have no doubt the senate will continue to move along in its somewhat humdrum way.

It cost Senator Pettus of Alabama about one dollar to secure a re-election. It cost Addicks about one hundred thousand dollars to miss the prize. The Delaware boss would like to take a leaf from the book of the Alabama statesman.

Presumably one of the first things the special session of the senate will be obliged to settle is with relation to Smoot. If the Utah contingent, pro and con, get into action, an all-summer session is not unlikely.

Sir Michael Herbert in addition to his other honors now carries the title of G. C. M. G. At this rate it will not be long before Sir Michael has absorbed the entire alphabet.

Secretary Cortelyou had his first experience of having congress on his hands when his request for a $2,000,000 appropriation was reduced to $255,000.

POLITICAL NOTES.

"A contemporary commends President Roosevelt for having chopped down his message," says the Cincinnati Enquirer (Dem.). "Might be as well to cut them out altogether. Congress pays no attention to them and not much attention to anything else."

The New Orleans Times-Democrat (Dem.) finds that, contrary to expectations, the poll tax law will disfranchise but few voters. Voters, to the number of 31,902 paid poll taxes this year. Thus the paper estimates the total number who will be entitled to vote in 1904 at 36,582. This is only 3,316 below the registration in the state election of 1900, which was 39,898.

The Watts bill, which has passed both houses in North Carolina, permits the manufacture and sale of liquor only in incorporated towns, which may vote on the question of dispensary, prohibition, or license. In the final debate on this measure strong efforts were made to have it amended so as to give local option to unincorporated towns. One amendment set the limit of population at 200, and another at 300, but both were defeated.

The Washington Post (Ind.) comments on the New York Commercial's opinion that congress, in passing the department of commerce law, gave to the president a "new power for good or evil," because it had peculiar confidence in him. "The Post does not believe," says the paper, "that any congress, in legislation relating to the industrial and commercial interests of the country, has ever put an instrument into the hands of a president which it did not think could be safely trusted in the hands of his successor, in the hands of any man duly elected or lawfully succeeding to that office."

The bill providing a direct nomination system for Wayne county, Mich., which includes the city of Detroit, now lacks only the governor's signature. The system is already familiar in Detroit, as it has been used for some years in the nomination of Aldermen. It will now be extended to city and county offices. The law provides for a blanket ballot, with a column for each party. The ballot is invalid for candidates for more than one place, as called for. Candidates for any office in question must file a notice with the county clerk and make a deposit to cover the cost of printing the primaries will be held on election days, March 16.

"The retirement of Pittsburg members of the state supreme court, being out of line with the position occupied by the judicial and legal government," says the Times, of that city, "should be followed by Judge W. D. Porter, who is a candidate for re-election, notwithstanding the fact that he is one of the vacancies created by the death of John K. Richards. Mentioned with Porter for promotion to Henry Clay Ferrier, who resigned from the bench to become attorney general, and who, it will be remembered, was first chosen by the Republicans of Allegheny county, it will be seen that Governor Pennoyer is faced with a pretty problem in the matter of filling the vacancies."

Governor Mickey, in an interview in the Omaha Bee, says: "The amendments in that state provide that the compensation of legislators shall be limited to five months, at $300 a year, that the salaries of state officers should be cut down, that provision should be made for a state board of equalization, and that the governor should be given the power to veto items in appropriation bills. One hour after the legislature convened the governor received a message from the state board of equalization, which he estimated would require at least $200,000, and he knew that the amendment would be adopted at the next general election, so he immediately called a special session of the legislature and had the amendment submitted to the people. The result was that the amendment was adopted by a majority of 30,000. It was done, however, at an expense of $10,000, and if it had not been done the state would have lost the money."

A VEIN OF HUMOR

A Brave Man.

The senate of Maine was a tie that day.
Twelve to twelve stood the vote, and the solons gray
Looked one at another and turned away
For the question that caused such doubt and pain
Was the suffrage right for the women of Maine.

Twelve to twelve stood the vote when the president rose
And again called the roll with its ayes and its noes,
And paused for a moment and stiffened his chin,
And the silence was such that the drop of a pin
Would have awakened the echoes with thunderous din.

There the president stood with the scowl on his face,
As he gave in his nervous and emotional brace,
And his eyes wildly rolled with a dull fiery glow,
And his cheeks were purple as a pan of fresh dough
As he shuddered and muttered a hideous "No!"

SHORT STORIES

One of the funniest things I ever heard occurred during a visit to America. Mr. Dillon, with his bright, "Irish" humor, was telling us how he had been "interviewed" by a Western reporter who had evidently never heard of the Irish leader. The reporter had asked Mr. Dillon, among other questions, what he thought of the Irish question. Mr. Dillon said he was very much pleased at the question, as it was the first he had met with which showed that the man who asked it was at least aware that there was such a thing as the Irish question. Mr. Dillon said he was very much pleased with the question, but he was sorry he could not answer it, as he was a stranger in America and knew nothing about the question. The reporter said he was very much pleased with the answer, and he was sorry he had taken up so much of Mr. Dillon's time, but he was very much pleased since he had met a man who was a stranger in America. There was a pause for a few moments, when the reporter said: "Mr. Dillon, I suppose you know all about the Irish question, and you can give us the benefit of your opinion on it?"

Books Will Be Distributed at Eighth Street, Curtis, Lowell, Columbia and Bristol Buildings.

At a special meeting of the committee on supplies of the board of education, held in the offices of the secretary yesterday afternoon, the contract for furnishing the books covered by the recent $1,500 appropriation of the board, was let to Whitney & Grimwood. Four bids were submitted, three from local book dealers and one from an eastern firm. Whitney & Grimwood were the lowest, however, and the contract was let to them, $700 being the contract price. Following is the list of bids submitted: Whitney & Grimwood, $700; A. C. McClurg, Chicago, $701.51; Foltz & Hardy, $750; and College Book Store, $776.03. The contract calls for about 1,000 books, which will be distributed among the libraries of the new Eighth and Curtis schools, and the additions to the libraries of the Lowell, Columbia and Bristol buildings. The remainder of the $1,500 appropriation will be used for the purchase of more books, and later for works of art for the buildings named.

[illegible] DEPOT [illegible]

Extensive additions will be made to the Denver & Rio Grande depot to accommodate the rush of baggage and travel during the summer tourist season. W. A. Kurr, joint agent of the Denver & Rio Grande and the Rock Island systems, announced yesterday that within two or three weeks work will begin upon the enlargement.

Between the baggage room and the depot building proper there is a narrow platform. Part of this platform is inclosed by an eight-foot iron fence, and the inclosure is used for the storage of trunks and other baggage. The floor space was entirely inadequate last summer and for several preceding summers for the great amount of baggage handled at this point.

The plans which have been approved and which Agent Kurr announces, embrace an extension of the platform towards the Antlers hotel, bringing it even with the wall of the depot and along the entire length of the Antlers side. The roof will be rebuilt from the center ridge outwards for a distance of several feet beyond the platform. The entire new portion will be inclosed with an iron fence of the pattern now standing, and what is known as the baggage room pavilion will likewise be inclosed, so that from the south wall of the depot to the north wall of the baggage room there will be a continuous inclosure. The present space devoted to baggage will be doubled. The baggage room, as it now stands, will be devoted to handling outgoing baggage, while the new part will be given up to incoming baggage.

Agent Kurr advises in regard to excursions and the early rush of tourists state that the travel to Colorado will begin early this year. The extensions will be completed in April.

[illegible] Chamber of Commerce Indorses Cragmor Proposition Last Night, and Considers Request of Typographical Union for Donation

The chamber of commerce took strong action last night in regard to the proposition for the establishment of a sanitarium at Cragmor. A resolution was adopted indorsing the well known Cragmor as a medium for the proposed building in sanitarium proposition. The resolution also recommended that the chamber of commerce and the Colorado Springs Commercial Club be requested to confer with the joint committee of the two bodies, and the chamber of commerce and the Colorado Springs Commercial Club were also requested to appoint committees to confer with the joint committee. The communication from the secretary of the chamber of commerce and the secretary of the Commercial Club was read and considerable discussion followed. The matter was referred to a committee consisting of Messrs. Initial Shipment Sent Out From Strike Made at Bottom of a 35-Foot Shaft—Lessees Have Sent Out Their First Shipment From Lexington Property.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, March 4.—The initial shipment was sent out today from the Silver Tip property, located on Bull hill, and the showing is such that regular consignments of ore will probably be maintained from now on. The ore comes from practically a surface strike made a short time ago, the bottom of the shaft being only about 35 feet from grass roots at the present time. Today one carload of ore was sent out that will run in the neighborhood of five ounces or better in gold to the ton. Operator Beebe and associates are now following the ore shoot down and it will not be a surprise if this property makes a rich shipping mine in the near future. The shaft which is started is situated about 300 feet from the Grotto shaft, where several rich shipments have been sent out of late.

Middagh and Lowry, operating on the Lexington property located on Gold hill, adjoining the Anchoria Leland, today sent out their initial shipment from this property since obtaining the lease on same. The lessees are working on a big ore body and they also have a $60,000 bond and lease on the property. This portion of the Lexington company's estate contains slightly over two acres of territory and has yielded in the past considerable ore. The lessees sent out 60 tons today and it is understood they will immediately make arrangements for the installation of a large compressor, and many other improvements on their ground.

Their lease runs for a period of three years, while the bond runs to August 1, and if the present ore body opens much larger, there is every reason to believe that the bond will be taken up.

Another carload of good milling grade ore left yesterday from the McDaniels lease on Pharmacist ground on Bull hill. This property is now being operated by four sets of lessees, all of which are shipping ore. After considerable development work is in progress and the condition of the mine is extremely good. When Mettler was granted a lease on the main workings a year ago, the company was in debt and there was very little ore in sight, but the development he and others have performed has made a producer of the property, and the royalties received by the company were sufficient to liquidate all debts standing against them, and leaving a balance in the treasury.

The operators of the Insurance tunnel, located near Gillett, are now getting very high grade values from the breast of the tunnel, the rock showing that they are in an eruptive dike, and assays taken from the seams gave very satisfactory results. This showing clearly indicates the near approach of a vein or a contact, from which the values have been spread in various directions through the rock where there was a chance for its escape. Two veins have been encountered which give assays of fair values. These are in sight and can be drifted on at any time, but it seems to be the policy of the management to thoroughly prospect the property before commencing any active mining.

W. P. Rice, manager for the Stratton estate, in this district, is authority for the statement that the reason why the plat recently published did not include the Bull hill properties belonging to the estate, was because another plat was in course of preparation which would confine itself to that locality. Just as soon as completed, it will be made public. This is looked for with interest by many mining men, as they are more particularly concerned with this section than in the undeveloped section of the camp around Gold and Globe hills.

A good-sized force of men is now pushing work in preparation for the machinery arriving for the cyanide plant which is to work over the tailings of the old Gillett mill at that place. Work of reconstruction of buildings is well under way and to all appearances the house will be finished in the course of a week or 10 days, and ready to receive the machinery which it is believed will be put in as soon as the building is ready for it.

[illegible] SMELTER [illegible] C. & N.

Secretary W. Macdermid, secretary of the C. K. and N. company, yesterday said relative to the weakness of the stock when 10,000 shares changed hands at 16: "There was a report about town to the effect that Lessee Grantlieff was having a great deal of trouble with water in the bottom of the mine. The story got around among the money men and caused the uneasiness that was evident by the market. The facts of the case are as follows: The fourth level workings at a depth of 375 feet were submerged some time ago, the water rising 18 or 20 feet above that point. The truth about the matter is that the worst is past and the water is beginning to recede at the rate of about a foot every 24 hours and we expect it to continue as the El Paso is pumping us out, which is according to our arrangements with them. There is a second reason and it is that the El Paso has probably cut the C. K. and N. water course in following that vein in their property and their workings being some distance below that point."

Continuing, he said, "Superintendent Taylor was in the city yesterday and stated that he had been compelled to lay off one shift as he could not utilize the men while the lower workings were flooded, but as soon as the fourth level is recovered he will put them back to work and in fact will add to them on the task of opening the lower portion of the mine. The production, he says, was 800 tons in February, the grade running from $30 to $60 a ton. The production in January was 1,001 tons of about the same grade, so that you see in the two months the Grantlieff lease has shipped about $100,000 worth of ore."

The annual meeting of the company was held in this city February 9 and the following board of directors was elected: Irving Dewhurst, E. E. Woods, R. A. Colburn, Irving W. Lombright, L. S. Griffis, F. G. Peck, William Lemos and W. G. Sturgeon.

No business other than the selection of officers was transacted at the above meeting and the only report submitted was a verbal one to the effect that the bond for $35,000 on about 20 acres of the company's property would in all probability be taken up about Aug. 1, after which an official statement would be sent out to the stockholders. The company has a large field which, however, would be more than provided for in the sale of the above property and as the tract to be disposed of does not take what is considered the best section of the property, it was deemed expedient to part with a portion of their holdings rather than to call upon the stockholders for an assessment. The company incurred the debt by attempting to carry out an extensive development scheme which included the sinking of the shaft to 500 feet and the opening of the property by a series of extensive levels. The search for the ore was not rewarded with anything of a commercial value and the company's treasury was more than exhausted and an indebtedness incurred.

[illegible] MAKE [illegible] MINING

Lessee Duch, who has been operating the E. Porter Gold King property on Gold hill, has made an important discovery in opening up the third level. Here he has encountered an entirely new shoot of ore which from present indications gives promise of becoming a producer of a good deal of ore. The vein is three feet wide and is producing a grade of ore which with the proper sorting will run three ounces in gold to the ton.

The shoot occurs in an east and west vein, the strike having been made at a point farther north than where any ore has ever before been found on the property which proves that this is an entirely new shoot to the E. Porter Gold King, and for that matter to the hill.

The rock shows considerable sulphurets and this taken together with the shallow depth at which the find was made, indicates that something of value may be developed when the vein is opened at greater depth. The lessee will push off the 100-foot level and if the vein holds good will immediately sink to 200 feet and run off another level on the vein.

BOWERS AND JEWETT BUY MANITOU JOURNAL PLANT

E. D. Bowers and Newt W. Jewett yesterday bought the Manitou Journal of the former owner and editor, Mrs. A. N. Browline. Hereafter the paper will be conducted by the Journal Publishing company, of which Mr. Bowers is president and Mr. Jewett is secretary. Mr. Jewett will occupy the editorial chair and the politics of the paper will be Republican as before. The new owners are intending to make the paper daily some time in the near future. Until a few years ago the plant was owned and controlled by Mr. Browline but upon his death the property passed into the hands of his wife, who has controlled it ever since.

CLUB WOMEN HEARD AN INTERESTING PAPER

In the unavoidable absence of Mrs. Maude Price, Mrs. E. A. Sawyer, the chairman, read her paper, entitled, "Landscape Painting and Painters, 1828-1860."

The paper on John Greenleaf Whittier, 1807-1892, was given by Mrs. Minnie A. Eldredge.

Notice was given of a change proposed in the by-laws. The matter will come up at the next meeting.

COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

The mining stock market was in good shape yesterday taking all things together. Prices were well sustained and trading was fairly active. There was an undercurrent of confidence that the strike would soon be settled which furnished the foundation of the improved conditions.

The first trade was in C. K. and N. at about 2 cents below the ruling quotation the weakness being due to conditions at the mine brought about by the flooding of the lower workings which has hitherto prevented the lessee and owner him to operate in the 300 and upper levels. Victor sold at 37 and up to 39 for odd lots with nothing transpiring at the mine to warrant any change in the price of the past day or two. Findley sold at 11 and did not appear to be affected by the suit commenced against this company by the owners of the Shamrock No. 2 in the district court of Cripple Creek.

Golden Cycle was strong at 70 at which figure 1,000 shares changed hands. Isabella sold from 21¼ to 20¾. 3,500 shares changing hands at this figure. Lexington appeared as a seller at 4½ for 3,000 shares and Pharmacist at the same figure for 5,000 shares.

In the prospect department trading was confined to small sales the transactions being in the majority of cases 1,000 and 2,000 shares although Bob Lee sold 60 shares at 1¾. Nellie V. 3,000 shares at 1. Primrose 1,000 shares at 1 and Marquett 1,000 shares at 1. The mining stock list was ignored entirely indicating an entire absence of the speculative spirit in regards the low priced stock.

Cripple Creek Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Cripple Creek, March 4. In the district court today the case of the people versus W. Gratton was on trial and he was found guilty of assault with intent to rob from the person of one Gus Miller in an alley between Third and Fourth streets, some three or four months ago.

The case of the people versus Williams was continued until the next term of court and the case of the people vs. Hughes was continued until next Tuesday, the 10th inst.

The next case to be tried in this court was that of the people versus H. Stevenson. Who was charged with assault with intent to injure Frances Craig, his schoolmate. While participating in a game of shinny on the school grounds on the afternoon of the 20th ult. Stevenson threw a piece of steel fitting, used on the knee joints of a sled, through the boy, being from which he lost his sight in one eye. Stevenson in his testimony said that he did not throw the piece of steel at any particular person. After a number of other witnesses had been examined the case was closed. When Judge Seeds addressed young Stevenson he said: "I am told that you are a good boy, but I find that while he would not pass a law on the subject, the court would still place upon his future behavior that he would have to report every Saturday morning at the court house in the judge's chambers until such time as the court was satisfied with the boy's conduct and he could then be told to report no more. If he is convicted of crime, sentence would be passed upon him, which means that the light fellow would go to the reformatory in the penitentiary."

IN COUNTY COURT. In the county court the following cases were tried today: A replevin claim by Mrs. Hayes versus N. Bowman, in the amount of $[illegible] with interest [illegible] mining [illegible]

Denver Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Denver, March 4. In spite of unfavorable weather conditions prompted by Sunday this morning the team of the Colorado Southern rode with senators and representatives, their colleagues and their families from the depot to the Union Pacific to the ground the floor. There with many distinguished state men and their wives, enjoyed the trip notwithstanding the storm and a few vexatious delays.

The visit of the party to the State university [illegible] was greeted with enthusiastic demonstration by the students. The visitors [illegible] were taken by hack to the main buildings, viewing the [illegible] drawn up in front of the school. Here they were met by President Baker. His subject was "State Aid and Needs" the point being to ask certain things of the legislature. President Baker stated that his relations with superintendents of other state institutions were most cordial and in referring to the appropriation allowed them he did so only in order to more forcibly demonstrate the need of his institution. He said that he was compelled by law to maintain a preparatory school whether it was wise or not, and this were [illegible] additional expense. He [illegible] upon the legislature for liberal assistance given the normal school and said that while the university had the good will of high schools and [illegible] it did not have sufficient assistance and that its buildings were neither adequate nor safe and have not had the proper equipment to handle the increasing demands made upon them. Mr. Baker says that the university is greatly in need of a new auditorium and more class rooms. He declared that it has only the higher ideals and is making great progress toward higher civilization. He asks for an annual appropriation of $150,000 $100,000 of which is to go toward maintenance, the balance to be used for improvements on buildings. He mentioned that the great universities of the country expend from a quarter of a million to one million dollars annually for maintenance.

After President Baker's speech the visitors returned to the train. About two hours' run brought the crowd to Fort Collins. The military division of students was lined up at the station on dress parade while the students' band furnished music, and if the legislators don't remember this place it won't be because there is nothing to impress it upon their minds. During luncheon here the glee club of the State Agricultural college sang several popular melodies and appreciation in the way of applause was not slow in reciprocating. After lunch the visitors were shown about the college grounds and through the different buildings. The needs of this institution were examined into, and much interest was shown in the different departments of the school. The [illegible] which [illegible] $[illegible] for the [illegible] of the school [illegible] afford better facilities. [illegible] the state university [illegible] need of more [illegible] the amount asked for [illegible] appropriated [illegible] will be sufficient to meet [illegible] needs. A visit was paid to the [illegible] stock department of the school [illegible] many fine specimens [illegible] were seen.

Greeley was reached at [illegible]. Here the State Normal school was visited. President A. S. Snyder, president of the school, gave a short talk to the legislators on the need of the school. He said that it was of great importance that teachers be schooled to teach and that persons be schooled for any other occupation that improvement the body needed. Inside of the dormitory building no pains or expense seems no place for examination work. The rooms are small and poorly ventilated and so [illegible] to the west. The [illegible] is not yet completed [illegible] that the appropriation of $[illegible] for the improvement [illegible] the amount asked. The Normal school [illegible] of a million on the [illegible] which amount [illegible] $[illegible] annually. The [illegible] to cover the same will be [illegible] college [illegible] $1[illegible] annually from the United States. [illegible] agricultural and mechanical [illegible]

From Greeley the legislators returned via the Union Pacific route arriving in Denver at 7:30 [illegible] feeling as if they had enjoyed a much enlightened by their trip.

The Grain Difference is only the first.

Step by step, day by day, we will show why Quaker Oats is the best food.

GRAIN DIFFERENCE

The Quaker quality of grain is not easy to find. To supply the needs of the Quaker mills we must search the country far and wide. We watch where the good oats grow; or even as it grows the difference begins. Sun may shrivel—or too much rain spoil the crop. But where the crop is best, we are there to choose the best of the best. There is that much difference in the Quaker grain—before it starts for the Mill. This is only the first difference in Quaker Oats. Best grain.

Amusements

"WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER."

Effie Ellsler's new play, "When Knighthood Was in Flower," which will be seen at the Opera house next Tuesday opens on May day 1513 and the first picture disclosed is one of Windsor park near the river landing. The ancient castle is seen in the distance with glimpses of the river. The hawthorn hedges are all abloom and May day festivities are in progress. The stage is crowded with nobles, maids of honor and children and from the depths of the forest comes the blood-stirring music of hunters horns. The court jester and one of the women in waiting dance the quaint Morris dances which were so popular in the opening years of the reign of Henry. The effect of the whole scene is to reflect in a convincing manner the spirit of court life at a time when the house of Tudor was approaching the crest of its greatest power.

Effie Ellsler's role of Mary Tudor in "When Knighthood Was in Flower," is by far the longest she has played, the part demanding her presence on the stage for two hours out of the three during which the performance runs. Miss Ellsler declares that it is the most arduous character she has ever played, including longer and more frequent speeches than are accorded to Barbara in "Barbara Frietchie." Reserved seats are now on sale at the following prices: Balcony $1, dress circle $1.50, parquet $2.

"THE OLD MILL STREAM."

"The Old Mill Stream" is not only a strong and extremely realistic play but in the character of Eli Byron Mr Daniel Sully has added another character that will live long in the annals of the theatre going public. Mr Sully will present his new play at the Opera house next Wednesday evening at popular prices. A combination of pathos and humor together with an exceptionally strong and interesting story of rural life are the component parts that make Daniel Sully's new play "The Old Mill Stream" the success that it is. Mr Sully has cast that his portrayal of Eli Byron is perhaps the most characteristic and lovable character that he has ever played since he first made his bow to the public. It is now. As for Byron the miller, Mr Sully says, "It takes a rare character to play it, but I think that I have succeeded in giving the character a lovable quality that makes it a strong and interesting one." As Eli Byron the miller Mr Sully is said to make a rare character study of the old miller, who is the representative Irish American character.

[illegible] Wedding [illegible] Kirkpatrick

The marriage of Miss Emily Gertrude Matthews and Mr. John True Clough was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in their home, 1723 North Nevada avenue. A company of about 60 relatives and friends assembled to witness the simple yet impressive service performed by Rev. A. C. Peck of Denver.

Promptly at the hour selected the groom, the officiating clergyman, Mr. W. J. Matthews, the brother of the bride, and the best man, Mr. Judd Friedline, entered the parlor. They were preceded by two of Mr Clough's little daughters, Lillian Dawes and Edwina Grace Clough, daintily gowned in white organdie and bare with trimmings of pink ribbons. These little maidens opened a pair of gates covered with kinnikinnick which had been thrown between the parlor and the drawing parlor from their hell llyelli drawing room. Immediately the remainder of the bridal party came into the parlor from that direction, the ushers, Dr. Omer Gillett and Mr Will Waltman, the maid of honor, Miss Dee Edi Waltman, Miss Stella Wilcox and Miss Bertha Allen bridesmaids. Then two little daughters of Mr Clough, Gertrude Martha Clough & flower girl scattering rose leaves, Ruth Clough carrying the ring in the knot of a calla lily. Last, the bride, who wore a lovely gown of sheer French lace made over a skirt of blue taffeta and garnished with blue satin ribbons. For her adornment friends had sent a quantity of beautiful orange blossoms so the bride wore a wreath of the flowers in the coiffure and more of them were combined with the large cluster of bride's roses carried. All the maids wore French lawn gowns garnished with pink ribbons.

Palms, pink carnations and sprays of the asparagus plumosus were tastefully combined in decorating the parlor and library. The drawing room was lovely with its profusion of pink roses and kinnikinnick. In the room of the spring [illegible] the congratulations had been extended, light refreshments were served in buffet style. Red and green had been chosen as the colors. Festoons of the colors extended from the chandeliers to the corners of the tables, wreaths of kinnikinnick knotted with broad red satin ribbons entered into the decorative scheme and the flowers were red carnations.

A number of costly gifts were received by the bride who has a wide circle of warm friends both in the city and the west. Mr Clough is a prominent young business man.

Mr and Mrs Clough left for a wedding trip of a few weeks' duration. They will be at home after April 1 in their home, 1723 North Nevada avenue.

The marriage of Miss [illegible] Hall, daughter of Mr and Mrs [illegible] Howley of Denver, to Mr Thomas Vaux, son of Mr and Mrs C. P. Vaux of this city, occurred in the home of the bride's parents, 1490 Twenty-ninth street, Denver. Mr and Mrs Vaux and Miss Sadie Vaux of this city were among the guests and they will give a reception next Friday evening for the bride and groom.

Mr Vaux has been located in Cripple Creek for some time and the bride and groom will reside there.

In the rectory of the Cumberland Presbyterian church Tuesday evening Miss Agnes Floyd and Mr Franklin Oscar Long were united in marriage. The Rev. Herbert A. Jones performed the ceremony. An informal reception followed.

Miss Ella [illegible] and Mr George M. Herndon, both of La Junta, were married in this city Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock. After a wedding tour Mr and Mrs Herndon will return to La Junta, their future home.

What is Mercerized Cotton?

Ordinary cotton fiber under the microscope appears as an irregular flat but twisted ribbon. Under the mercerizing process, which consists of immersing the cotton while in a stretched condition in solutions of caustic soda and dilute sulphuric acid and thoroughly washing in pure water, the fiber instantly loses the outer husk, untwists, contracts, and swells, assuming a firmly rounded semi-transparent form, which reflects the light instead of absorbing it, thus giving that beautiful lustrous appearance.

Mercerized cotton gains 20 to 100 per cent. in textile strength and therefore wears longer than non-mercerized cotton.

MISS WALSH WITHDRAWS FROM SPONSORSHIP

Mr. Walsh Has Withdrawn the Name of His Daughter as Sponsor for the Colorado and Senator Teller Has Appointed in Her Place the Daughter of the Governor.

By Associated Press.

Denver, March 4.—Governor Peabody this evening received a telegram from Senator Teller asking permission to name Miss Cora Peabody, eldest daughter of the governor, as sponsor for the new cruiser Colorado. The permission was granted.

Special to the Gazette.

Washington, March 4.—Mr. Thomas F. Walsh has withdrawn the name of his daughter, Evelyn, as sponsor for the cruiser Colorado, and Senator Teller has appointed in her stead the daughter of Governor Peabody.

When the announcement was made several weeks ago that Senator Teller had selected Miss Walsh to christen the Colorado, criticisms of his action appeared in the Denver newspapers which were very annoying to Mr. Walsh and his family and Mr. Walsh immediately wrote a letter to Senator Teller in which he said:

"Through some misunderstanding there seems to be an idea in the minds of some Denver people that in selecting my daughter, nearly a year ago, as sponsor for the Colorado, that Governor Peabody was slighted. Nothing could be further from your intention or mine when it was ever proposed to have the governor and his family as guests of honor at the christening and other ceremonies planned to take place in Washington. In order to relieve you of embarrassment, I cheerfully, willingly and of my own volition, withdraw my daughter's name in favor of Miss Peabody, and hope you and Mr. Cramp will appoint her for the honor of christening the Colorado."

Senator Teller requested Mr. Walsh to allow the arrangements to stand, but the latter declined to do so, and on February 23 wrote Senator Teller that the honor which he would have been pleased to take at first would now be a most disagreeable if not impossible one. "So we beg of you, as a great favor to Mrs. Walsh and me, to withdraw our daughter's name and appoint some other young lady, preferably Miss Peabody."

In response Senator Teller wrote Mr. Walsh that he could not see his way clear to withdraw Miss Walsh's name, that designation of her was originally made public before Governor Peabody's name was mentioned in connection with the office he now holds and without any solicitation on the part of Mr. Walsh.

Mr. Walsh again wrote Senator Teller advising him that he and Mrs. Walsh had given the matter a great deal of attention and had decided that it would be absolutely impossible under the circumstances to permit their daughter to christen the Colorado, and this final decision resulted in Senator Teller's action today, when he selected Miss Peabody for the place. Friends of the Walshes here regretted that what are believed were unfortunate and uncalled-for criticisms were made concerning the selection of Miss Walsh. The selection was made nearly a year ago, when it was planned to have the launching take place early this year.

The intention in Mr. Walsh's mind in accepting the place for his daughter was purely patriotic. He planned to entertain many Colorado visitors to the launching in his usual generous manner, and had planned a banquet in this city in honor of the launching at which he hoped to have present the president and cabinet and at which Governor Peabody and his family were to be guests of honor. His intention was to make the occasion one on which the greatness of Colorado might be spoken of by many representative citizens before a most influential audience.

In regard to a paragraph in a Denver paper intimating that the Colorado legislature might petition Mr. Cramp to make a change, Mr. Walsh believes that he has nothing to expect from a Colorado legislature but courtesy and kindness. He withdraws his daughter's name absolutely at his own volition, cheerfully and willingly. The date now set for the launching is April 9.

WE'VE STRUCK A NEW WRINKLE

President Ramsey Has Issued a Statement in Which He Declares That the Result Might Be So Serious That the Great Anthracite Coal Strike Would Come to Insignificance.

By Associated Press.

St. Louis, March 4.—Developments in the impending strike situation on the Wabash were very few today and without interest. Everything now hinges on the injunction which the labor leaders will attempt to have dissolved and until this is done away with there can be no strike, for they have agreed to obey the court's order. E. T. Lewis of Peoria, Ill., and E. V. Penny of Cleveland, attorneys for the trainmen, spent the day in conference with Messrs. P. H. Morrissey and S. A. Arnold and other union leaders, examining the petition on which the injunction was issued and preparing an answer that will be presented in court, probably tomorrow, to secure a dissolution of the restraining order. There were no developments at Wabash headquarters.

President Ramsey said:

"Everything is running smoothly and there are no indications that our men have gone out or will soon. I have not seen the members of the grievance committee today and know nothing of what is transpiring at their headquarters."

Asked as to the effect of sympathetic strike on the part of the trackmen, 2,000 of whom, Grand Master Wilkins says, are ready to support the trainmen and firemen if they go out, President Ramsey said:

"It would have very little effect on the situation. In case of a strike we could get all the men we should need to take the places of strikers in all departments."

Ramsey's Statement.

A lengthy statement was issued today by President Ramsey addressed to the employes of the Wabash Railroad company and others interested, explaining his position in the present crisis. The statement was as follows:

"To the employes of the Wabash Railroad company and others interested:

"The crisis now existing on the Wabash lines is a very grave one, not only to the Wabash company and its employes and to other railroad companies and their employes, but also to the commercial and industrial interests of the country, as the strike on the Wabash would in all probability spread to a large number of other roads and would involve not only organizations of railway employes, but other labor organizations and the result might be so serious that the great anthracite coal strike would dwindle into insignificance. Therefore, I deem it wise to keep the employes all over the system and the public correctly advised of the exact facts regarding the matters at issue. For this reason, only I make reply to statements made by Mr. Morrissey in the morning papers.

Charges Denied.

"The first is personal to the president of the Wabash. Mr. Morrissey says:

"'For years he (Mr. Ramsey) had boasted of his contempt for labor organizations. He liked the distinction it brought him of being the one managing officer in this section who could get along without them. Every previous effort of the employes to meet and deal with him have proven futile.'

"This statement is absolutely without truth. I have never expressed 'contempt for labor organizations.' I may have for some hot-headed leader who advocates the rule or ruin policy. On the contrary I have frequently said to labor leaders, members and others that I had no objection to them when properly and conservatively conducted and when they did not absolutely ignore individual rights or obligations. There are hundreds of organization men on the Wabash who know this, there are dozens who are employed by me after the strike of 1894, (two years after I became connected with the Wabash) who offered to leave their association to get back, to whom I said:

"'That is not necessary; I do not care what organizations you belong to so you are reasonably loyal to the company and a good workman.' I have never discharged or declined to employ any one on account of membership in an organization. The Wabash employes are treated as men, with all their rights as individuals recognized and as long as they recognize the rights of the other fellow employes and give fair service to the company they have the right to join any church or organization, political, labor or other kind they wish.

Always Ready to Confer.

"During my 33 years with this and other railroads I have never failed to meet any committee of employes or any individual employe who wished to see me, and I have met every committee now here several times, and three of these meetings were with Messrs. Hanrahan, Lee and Wilkins present. I meet such committees knowing they are members of organizations duly constituted. I only say to them your grievances are as employes of the Wabash and, therefore, we confer as employes."

"Mr. Morrissey says: 'Mr. Ramsey bluffed and cajoled the men.' The Wabash men are men of some experience and know enough not to be bluffed and cajoled by me except in one way and that was by fair treatment and fair play.

"The truth is the bluffing and cajoling has been entirely on the part of the organization leaders. For the past two years they and their aids have been urging the Wabash employes to 'force the issue,' and although their committees have been around for two or three months they could never get and have not now a fair committee of the system, although threats of taking lodge charters and expelling members were made.

"Joseph Ramsey."

Trainmen's Position.

In speaking of Mr. Ramsey's statement and of the general situation, P. H. Morrissey, grand master of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, said to the Associated Press tonight:

"All I have to say regarding Mr. Ramsey's statement is that I do not care to enter into a wordy contest through the press with Mr. Ramsey because it would not interest the public and I do not think it would be profitable to either of us. The public has his statement as well as his and can judge between the two. My statement was based on absolute facts and can be verified if necessary, but I realize that the public does not care about the details.

"We are going to take steps to dissolve that injunction. I cannot say just when it will be accomplished, but possibly in a day or two. Our attorneys arrived here today and we will employ local attorneys. They will confer together and take the proper steps at the proper time."

"Are you in favor of arbitration?"

"Our organization is committed to the policy of arbitration," Mr. Morrissey replied.

"I do not see how any question of arbitration can be considered with the matter at the present time. We surely would not arbitrate our privilege to dissolve this injunction. The injunction is the principal point before us now. Nothing will be done until it is determined."

Interest Elsewhere.

W. G. Lee, first vice grand master of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen of Cleveland, said tonight:

"Railroad employes all over the country are watching this situation very closely. All day I have been receiving telegrams of inquiry and inquiry time was called to the long distance telephone.

"I had nothing to say, but it is surprising to see what general and intense interest is aroused throughout the country."

Judge E. A. Adams of the district court, who granted the writ of injunction yesterday, said tonight regarding the decree granting the injunction:

"The reasons for the decree are in the bill presented to me by the Wabash attorney. I will make no other statement, as I understand a motion will be made by the defendants to dissolve the injunction. The points at issue will then be carefully reviewed and judgment rendered accordingly."

Grand Master Wilkins of the Trackmen's association met Messrs. Hanrahan and Morrissey today and assured them that his men, two thousand strong, were ready to support the trainmen and firemen and would leave work at their bidding.

MOB SPECIAL MURDERER

It Is Said That Cardinals Now in Rome Have Delayed Their Departure.

By Associated Press.

Rome, March 4.—The alarmists are again to the fore this evening and declare that Pope Leo is really ill. They point to the official note in tonight's Vatican organ, stating that on the advice of his doctor the pope has decided to take several days absolute rest.

The truth is that the pope never succeeded in getting rid of the cold which caused a slight cough and hoarseness. Dr. Lapponi, on visiting his holiness today, found that he was somewhat better, but frankly told him that he must either consent to cure his cold or he would run the risk of something serious. The pontiff thereupon gave way and promised to suspend his audiences. To save annoyance, Dr. Lapponi advised that Pope Leo announce this determination through the Osservatore Romano.

However, the condition of the pope, taking into consideration his advanced age, is not without danger and is causing considerable anxiety, so much so, it is asserted, that some cardinals who have come to Rome from a distance, have postponed their departure.

COSTA RICAN PRESIDENCY.

By Associated Press.

San Jose, Costa Rica, March 4.—Advices received here today from Costa Rica say that Gen. Bonilla, the president-elect to whom General Sierra refused to surrender the presidency, has entered Tegucigalpa, the capital of Honduras, and that General Sierra and General Arias, who was appointed president by Sierra when the latter took the field against Bonilla, have retreated to a stronghold in one of the northern departments, accompanied by their best fighting men. It is now believed here that General Bonilla will succeed in retaining power at Tegucigalpa.

MURDERER STILL AT LARGE

By Associated Press.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 4.—District Attorney Coatsworth's office in the city hall was again the place in which interest in the Burdick murder mystery centered today. Several unknown men and women were admitted to the private office and later were hurried away from the city hall in closed carriages.

While Superintendent Bull is quoted as saying an arrest—the image of a woman—may occur at any moment, the authorities are working as hard on the case today as they did the first day after the tragedy was discovered.

"We think we could make an arrest now in safety," said Superintendent Bull today, "but we prefer to wait as we believe that certain evidence which we wish to gather will lead to successful results."

Less information is allowed to find its way out of the district attorney's office than heretofore. The publicity given to the names of persons who have called at the office no doubt has prevented many who might be able to give some suggestion from imparting that information to the authorities. Today the district attorney announced through the press that those desiring to confer with him might do so by telephone. One of the new facts developed from this source brings into the case another mysterious carriage which was halted in Ashland avenue north of the block in which is situated the Burdick home, late on the night of the murder. This new development is looked upon as one of the most important clews of that particular kind that has come to light since the investigation began. One of the women who called the district attorney on the telephone gave the information. She is an invalid whose home is in Ashland avenue. It is an interesting fact that the woman seen by Patrolman Meyers on the night of the murder was walking toward the corner where the carriage is said to have been standing. Diligent inquiry by the detective force has failed to reveal anyone in the neighborhood who had a carriage on the night of the murder.

Dr. John D. Howland, the deputy medical examiner, called at the district attorney's office this afternoon, and turned over to Mr. Coatsworth the medical examiner's report of the organs and the wounds that produced the shock which caused death. The examining physicians found small pieces of the skull bone imbedded in the brain.

Frank A. Abbott, assistant district attorney, said this afternoon no final report had been received from City Chemist Hill regarding his analysis of the food, cocktails, the clubs on the golf stick and other articles found in the den the morning after Mr. Burdick's body was discovered. Mr. Hill is also analyzing the contents of Mr. Burdick's stomach.

It was admitted by Chief Cusack today that two houses in the Elmwood section were searched by the police last Sunday. They were the homes of Arthur R. Pennell at 208 Cleveland avenue and of Mrs. Seth T. Payne at 492 Elmwood avenue. Pennell was named as co-respondent in the divorce proceedings instituted by Mr. Burdick against his wife, Alice Burdick. Mrs. Payne's picture was found in Burdick's den on the day after the murder.

Chief Cusack stated, however, that nothing was found in either house of importance or of significance in the Burdick investigation.

"I am satisfied in my mind that I know the person who murdered Burdick. I believe that we have not at present enough evidence to convict the guilty party. We have one card yet to play—one move yet to make and with that move will come the knowledge of whether we have failed or won.

"It may not be advisable to make that move for several days. There is nothing likely to develop tonight, or early in the morning. To my mind sufficient motive has been established for the crime outside of the motive of wishing to avoid publicity of divorce proceedings. The web is closely woven; time will tell the results."

This is a resume of an interview with District Attorney Coatsworth given this evening. He is satisfied he says that the right man or woman is suspected. He would not say whether the suspect was a man or woman.

"Superintendent Bull has said that he is satisfied in his own mind that the police have followed the right lead; that

Blood Was Poisoned

A Happy Cure After Use of Two Bottles of

Paine's Celery Compound

The Spring System Cleanser.

Health is that natural state of the whole body in which the entire nervous system is so perfectly regulated that, it can, without undue effort, perform its almost numberless and all-important duties.

The blood as it goes through the body must bear nourishment and life or poisons and death.

JUDGE P. D. MCKERNIE,
One of the Fire Marshals of Cuba.

Your blood is quickly filled with vigorous and poisonous matter when you suffer from boils, pimples, blackheads, eczema, salt rheum, rheumatism or kidney troubles. When nerve force is low, when you suffer from insomnia, languor or neuralgia, be assured your blood demands purifying and cleansing.

Paine's Celery Compound quickly banishes from the blood all poisons, supplies the proper elements for building the vital tissue, and for the general repair of the whole system. Try its renovating and life giving virtues at once if you would be made well, strong and healthy. Judge P. D. McKernie, of Havana, says:

"While I was in New York I heard about Paine's Celery Compound and never thought I would ever get well. I only took one bottle of that wonderful discovery and found myself with better vigor and energy."

Mr. Thomas Young, Lincoln, Pa., says:

"I suffered very much from blood poisoning and after recovering from two months with my arm was but not regaining any good health. I tried Paine's Celery Compound. After use of two bottles completely cured me. All my thanks are due to Paine's Celery Compound."

They can cross the path of guilty of the crime. Can you say as much? he was asked.

"Yes, I can say that we are satisfied we know the murderer, unless we have delayed Mr. Burdick, I do not believe though we have enough evidence to substantiate an arrest."

For some reason the Murray girl, the servant in the Burdick house, was again closely questioned today. She was taken to Mr. Coatsworth's office and from there to Mr. Cusack's office at police headquarters. There she was questioned for more than an hour. She originally told the story of having seen Mr. Burdick go downstairs to his underclothing. Her new story, according to Mr. Coatsworth, contained unshaken.

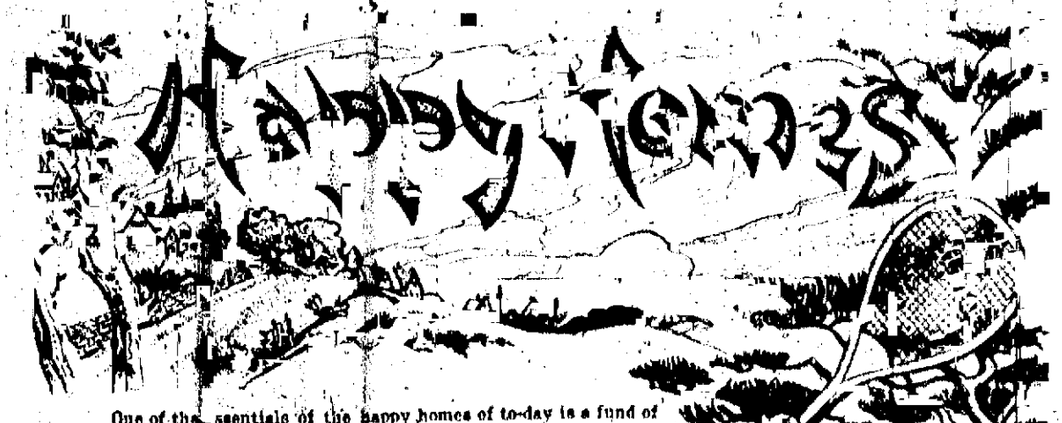
DEADLY COLLISION

By Associated Press.

Kansas City, March 4.—Outgoing Rock Island Texas train No. 13, which left the union station at 5 o'clock tonight over the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis tracks, which the Rock Island uses out of Kansas City, crashed into the wrecks of Rock Island Texas Nos. 12 and 2, which were made into one but were late and which were trying to make a siding at the Rock Island junction just outside of the Kansas City yards. The engine was thrown from the track, turned over and smashed into kindling wood and the seven or more persons inside all are injured, but no one was killed.

Following is a list of injured:

L. A. Dunn, Weiser, Idaho, internal injuries probably fatal. Scalp wound, head, leg badly wrenched. Horace Walford, Seattle, head cut and bruised about body. M. White, Jarmie, Macon county, Mo., left arm and leg badly sprained, knee cap smashed. William Ryan, Clarinton, Iowa, leg wrenched and bruised about body. Mrs. Jackson, bruised and internal injuries. H. L. O'Dell, brakeman, Kansas City, arm and leg sprained. GEORGE W. HELCHEL, LOVELAND, COLO., left shoulder bruised. Frank Gardner, Chicago, right leg injured. Frank Combard, new agent, Kansas City, bruised about head.



One of the essentials of the happy homes of to-day is a fund of information about right living and the best methods of promoting health and happiness. With proper knowledge, each hour of recreation, of enjoyment and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and are of not less value than the using of the most wholesome foods and the selecting of the best medicinal agents when needed. With the well-informed, medicinal agents are used only when nature needs assistance and while the importance of cleansing the system effectually, when bilious or constipated, has long been known, yet until within recent years it was necessary to resort to pills, salts, extracts of roots, barks and other cathartics which were found to be objectionable and to call for constantly increased quantities.

Then physicians having learned that the most excellent laxative and carminative principles were to be found in certain plants, principally in the leaves, the California Fig Syrup Co. discovered a method of obtaining such principles in the purest condition and of presenting them with pleasant and refreshing liquids in the form most acceptable to the system and the remedy became known as—Syrup of Figs as figs were used, with the plants, in making it, because of the agreeable taste.

This excellent remedy is now rapidly coming into universal use as the best of family laxatives, because it is simple and wholesome and cleanses and sweetens the system effectually without disturbing the natural functions and without unpleasant after effects and its use may be discontinued when it is no longer required.

All who would enjoy good health and its blessings should remember that it is the one remedy which physicians and parents well-informed approve and recommend and use and which they and their little ones alike enjoy, because of its pleasant flavor, its gentle action and its beneficial effects.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all reliable druggists, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, in original packages only, having the name of the remedy, Syrup of Figs and the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of every package.
